In this issue:

Women's Health Awareness and HEDIS® Preventive Care

May is Women's Health Awareness Month—and it's the perfect moment to close preventive-care gaps before they become bigger problems. See the key HEDIS measures (breast, cervical, chlamydia, colorectal, and post-fracture osteoporosis testing) and how simple outreach can boost quality and equity. Read more for quick actions you can take now.

Expanding Access to Bone Density Testing

A new in-home option is making bone density (DEXA) screening easier than ever. Learn how MVP's partnership with Retina Labs brings scans to eligible MVP Medicare Members, how results are shared for continuity of care, and how the $25 gift-card incentive can help drive completion. Read more to see how to promote the program.

Active vs History of Breast Cancer Documentation

When documentation isn't clear, breast cancer coding—and patient safety—can suffer. Get a practical checklist for distinguishing active disease vs. history of cancer, plus the details that matter most (site, laterality, type, stage, recurrence/metastasis, and treatment intent). Read more to improve records across specialties.

Alcohol Awareness Month

Alcohol use can be easy to miss—and even easier to document inconsistently. This month's spotlight shares what to look for, how to capture use vs. abuse vs. dependence, and which ICD-10-CM codes support accurate diagnosis and care. Read more documentation tips you can use on the next visit.

MVP Medical Policy Update—Weight Loss Medications

Big change for 2026: MVP's weight loss medication policy is now more flexible—but documentation matters more than ever. Starting April 1, 2026, coverage for GLP-1 obesity treatment requires well-documented participation in comprehensive lifestyle-based weight management (with program flexibility). Read more to see what to capture in the record.

Updates from HEDIS Operations

Measurement Year 2026 is around the corner—are you ready for Gaps in Care (GIC) collection? MVP begins collection May 18, 2026, and a few small submission missteps can create big delays. Read more for what to use (latest report), what to include (NCQA HEDIS documentation), and what to avoid.

Support Patients on Their Heart Health Journey with Movn Health

Cardiac rehab doesn't have to be limited by distance, transportation, or schedules. See how virtual cardiac rehab with Movn Health can help more patients start—and stick with—heart-healthy recovery from home. Read more to learn who may benefit and how to connect patients to support.
