HAS YOUR CHILD SEEN THE DOCTOR LATELY?

Regular visits to the doctor keep your child healthy.

These checkups help the doctor find problems before they become serious. As an MVP member, your child’s checkups are a covered benefit. Children should see the doctor for a checkup if they are:

- Under one year old: between two and four weeks old, two months, four months, six months and nine months of age
- Ages 1–5: At 15 months and 18 months old, then once per year
- Ages 6–18: Once every year

Before a checkup, tell your child that he or she is going to the doctor and explain what to expect during their visit:

- A general screening—to check your child’s overall health. The doctor or nurse may measure things like height, weight, heart rate, and blood pressure.
- Eye and ear exams—to test for sight and hearing problems that may affect learning.
- A dental check—to make sure teeth are healthy and strong and are coming in on schedule. Your child should go to the dentist every six months starting at age two.
- Lead tests—your child should have a blood lead test to check for lead poisoning at age one and again at age two.
- Shots (Immunizations)—to protect your child against disease.
- Counseling—for healthy eating, safety, and more. Older children will learn about the dangers of smoking, drugs, alcohol, and unsafe sex.

If you have a teenager, it is important to talk to your teen about not smoking, not drinking, and not using drugs. Be a good role model to your teen. If you think your teen may be smoking, drinking, or using drugs, talk to your child’s doctor about it and ask him or her to test your child for alcohol or other drug use.

DO YOU SMOKE? WANT TO QUIT?

Quitting smoking may be the best thing you do for your health. No matter your age, you can reduce your cancer risk if you quit smoking. Ten years after quitting, for example, the risk for lung cancer may be cut in half. In 10 to 15 years, your overall risk for cancer will be nearly as low as that of a nonsmoker.

Many smokers want to quit but need help. Using quit-smoking medications can double your chances of quitting smoking for good. Quit-smoking medications reduce cravings for nicotine and lower withdrawal symptoms. Your doctor can also provide counseling to help you quit.

Talk to Your Doctor About a Quit Plan That is Right for You!

You can find more information and an interactive tool to help you determine if you are ready to quit smoking at www.mvphealthcare.com. Select Living Healthy under Members, and then Health Tools & Calculators.

For help quitting, you can also call the New York State Smokers’ Quitline at 1-866-NY-QUITS (1-866-697-8487) or visit www.nysmokefree.com.
PROTECT YOUR FAMILY FROM LEAD POISONING

Your child should first be checked for lead poisoning at six months of age as part of a regular checkup. The doctor will ask questions to see if your child is at risk for lead poisoning. Your child will need to be tested for lead poisoning by a blood test at ages one and two years.

Most children with lead poisoning do not have any symptoms. It can slow your child’s growth and can cause learning problems.

Kids can get lead poisoning by:
• Eating paint chips from walls or furniture
• Chewing on painted surfaces
• Putting toys that have lead dust on them into their mouths
• Drinking water from old, lead pipes
• Playing in dirt that contains leaded gas or old paint

How can I protect my family?
• Keep your house clean and free of dust
• Keep your kids away from peeling paint
• Have everyone wash their hands before eating and sleeping
• Mop floors and wipe furniture often with a damp, clean cloth
• Wash toys in warm, soapy water about once a week
• Always use cold water for drinking
• Start with cold water when you cook
• Run the tap for at least one minute before using the water

Ask about lead testing at your next doctor visit. MVP covers this test and regular checkups for all members.
