

Well-Child Visits in the First 30 Months of Life (W30)

Patient Profile

MVP members who had the following number of Well-Child visits with a PCP during the last 30 months:

1. Six or more in the first 15 months
2. Two or more between 15 months and 30 months

Measure Details

- The well-child visit must occur with a PCP, but the PCP does not have to be the provider assigned to the child.
- Telehealth services may be used for this measure.

Documentation must include:

- Evidence of health, physical development, and behavioral development history
- A complete physical exam (if the visit was originally for a sick visit, the physical exam must be comprehensive, and not just pertaining to the reason for the sick visit)
- Health Education/Anticipatory Guidance and to whom received the information (handouts given during a visit without evidence of a discussion does not meet criteria for Health Education/Anticipatory Guidance)

How to Implement Best Practices and Improve Performance

View each contact with a member as an opportunity to discuss wellness and provide preventive services, such as delinquent immunizations. This is especially helpful to parents or guardians whose compliance with medical care cannot be ensured. For these members, providers should also consider incorporating well components with sick visits.

- Document a well-rounded interim history (or complete birth history at the initial visit.) Examples include parents or guardian concerns such as feeding, elimination, and sleep and behavior patterns since the last visit. This must be done six or more times by the 15-month birthday and two additional times by 30 months of age.
- Document a developmental assessment, both physical and behavioral. Examples include “Development is Appropriate for Age” or “Normal Development”. In addition, you should make reference to cognitive behaviors, communication skills, and physical abilities. This must be done six or more times by the 15-month birthday and two additional times by 30 months of age.
- A Physical Exam that includes most, or all, of the major body systems. This must be done six or more times by the 15-month birthday and two additional times by 30 months of age.
- Health Education/Anticipatory Guidance should be documented during any discussion. In addition, provide printed materials during visits. Examples may include materials on nutritional guidance, infant safety, what to expect, physical abilities for age, and setting limits. This must be done six or more times by the 15-month birthday and two additional times by 30 months of age.
- Services may occur over multiple visits, as long as each of these four components is met by a PCP six or more times by the date of the 15-month birthday and two additional times by 30 months of age.
- Visit Brightfutures.org for Best Practices related to preventive visits for infants, children, or adolescents. Using well-visit templates will satisfy all components of the measure.

How Scheduling Staff Can Collaborate to Implement Best Practices and Improve Performance

- When a child comes for sick visits in-between preventive visits, please remind the parent(s) or guardian(s) about the importance of keeping the preventive appointments, even if they may be in close proximity.
- In addition, remind parent(s) or guardian(s) that there is no co-pay for preventive services or health maintenance visits.
